Let ImageMaker Add Motion, Action and Fun to Your Online Holiday Greetings

Yep, Autumn 'tis the season to get started on your company's Web-based holiday messages! In fact, there's no time to waste!

Whether you include original animation, video, poignant photos or even simple games, sending your greetings and thanks via the Web makes sense for the environment and will get your message seen (and hopefully passed around!) by more customers and potential customers. Some holiday greetings are so original and so much fun, they're even going viral!

We've really enjoyed creating these for our clients and we'd love to create one for your company, too!

Here are a few ideas!

Even though there are still quite a few shopping days before the holiday season, there are definitely not nearly enough working days! NOW is the time to connect with our creative team to get started on your 2014 Holiday Greeting. We look forward to helping you wrap up this year and ring in the New Year with some impressive Web-based holiday messaging! Contact Sondra Brunone at sondra@imagemakerdallas.com.
